SEA LORD 'CONTENT TO WAIT'

LONDON, Nov. 16.—The British government is no longer considering conscription.

Premier Asquith announced in the House of Commons today that he, together with other members of the Cabinet, believed that compulsory service would not be necessary.

"We are confident that the recruiting system of Lord Derby will secure an adequate response from the nation," declared the Prime Minister.

Voluntary enlistments have grown so considerably that the military authorities are highly pleased with the situation.

By HENRY THOMAS.
By International News Service.
LONDON, Nov. 16.—Baron Fisher of Kintore, former First Sea Lord of the Admiralty, upon whose shoulders considerable blame for the British failure in the war was put by Winston Churchill yesterday, answered the former First Lord of the Admiralty today.

Baron Fisher made his speech in the House of Lords; Mr. Churchill had delivered his address of defense in the Commons.

"I have a record of sixty-one years of service in behalf of my country," declared the former First Sea Lord, "and I am content to wait. I think it is not fitting to make a personal explanation affecting the national interests at this moment of a great war."

Churchill has been the most severely criticized member of the British Government, and has been held personally responsible for the loss of Rear Admiral Christopher Craddock's fleet in the Pacific, the destruction by submarines of the British cruisers Crest and Aboukir, the Antwerp expedition and the initiation of the naval attack on the Dardanelles.

CHAMBER SEATS AT $20--$50 A PAIR

The Chamber of Commerce held its annual meeting today, discussed immigration and preparedness, and elected eight new members to the board of twenty-four directors. The board will meet Thursday to elect officers of the chamber.

The new directors chosen were: George Albert, Louis Blum, Paul E. Fitzpatrick, Andrew W. Preston, Fred H. Rice, Forrest S. Smith, Frederick S. Snyder and Leslie C. Wood.

The meeting was opened by President Elmer J. Hille, who spoke on the work the Chamber has accomplished the past year.

Former President Bernard J. Rothwell, speaking on immigration, said: "The United States by reason of the tremendous influx of immigrants in recent years lacks solidarity. While the people of the United States share with the auxiliary dangers in Europe in the past year have taught by the folly of treating people whose hostile enterprises are limited only by their danger of failure. After this war we will not have a single friend in Europe, and a selfish Mexico on our Southern border."

Former President J. Randolph Coolidge, Jr. spoke on the Chamber of Commerce part in national preparedness. He said:

"The Boston Chamber of Commerce should foster all legislation which looks toward a better preparedness against possible invasion. The chamber should work for legislation which would put employers of labor on an equality with regard to the absence of employees at their annual camps. Massachusetts is in a peculiar situation and should take the lead in the preparation for a military force which will make it beyond human possibility for a foreign foe to land on our soil and extort a million dollars from our State."

Former President George S. Smith also addressed the meeting on "Preparedness, Inside and Out."

BROCKTON FAMILIES FLEE FOR LIVES

BROCKTON, Nov. 16.—The police expect to make an arrest as a result of this fire early to day in the two-story tenement house at No. 10 Thurnell place, from which nine persons, five of them children, narrowly escaped with their lives.

The police also have in their possession a twenty-foot joint, with a bundle of oil-soaked rags tied to one end, which they say was used as a torch to fire the building in three places.

The upper tenement of the house was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Linton and their five children, Michael, Antonio, Mary, Olympia and Archie, ranging from six to fifteen years. On the floor below were Peter Charonich, owner of the building, and his wife.

The Lintons told the police they were awakened about 2:30 by smoke and flames from outside the building. They had just time to leave the building by the rear, escape by the front hallway having been lit off.

Mrs. Linton, an invalid, was carried from the house by her husband. Carl Jonell and his wife were nearly suffocated.

HUNT FOR HOBBS EXTENDS OVER COUNTRY

The search for Henry H. Hobbs, kidnaper of his wife, spread today over the whole country as a result of the receipt of a letter from Hobbs to his mother, in which the kidnaper said he was going West.

Hobbs kidnapped his wife, took her to a lonely hut in the woods just across the New Hampshire State line from Haverhill, and attempted by blows and abuse to force her to sign away some land. When three men approached the hut at dawn Sunday he eluded them and escaped into the woods.

The news that he had abandoned the woods for him today astonished that part of the hunt, satisfied that the fugitive had escaped to the West. It was the letter written by Hobbs which told of his escape.

Hobbs wrote and mailed the letter from Boston. It was dated Sunday and posted Monday. It was a pathetic plea on Hobbs' part to win the forgiveness of his mother for what he had done.

The letter was received by Mrs. Ellen H. Hobbs, the widow of Mr. H. Cane, avenue, Haverhill, while an armed patrol was scouring the woods near Atkinson, where Hobbs had taken his wife by rail-road to their slanting home, and there attempted to make her sign papers authorizing him to sell his so-called "ranch."

Mrs. Hobbs at once turned the letter over to Attorney George F. Fox, counsel for Charles Hobbs, a brother of the fugitive, accused of complicity in the case.

BROTHER ARRANGED.
Charles Hobbs was arraigned again today on an abduction charge. Attorney Peters said that County Attorney Oliver H. Hatch of Hockingham County, New Hampshire, is engaged at Portsmouth in the Burke murder trial, and said that Hatch had agreed to another abduction, so the case against Charles Hobbs was continued (Nov. 16).

On Nov. 15, his bail was reduced from $15,000 to $10,000. He was released when this bail was furnished by his sister, Mrs. Ellen Cane, of Andover. Charles Hobbs is alleged to have driven the automobile in which Mrs. Hobbs was kidnapped and after being freed today he went back to his sister's room.

HOBBS' LETTER TO MOTHER.
Here is the letter from Henry Hobbs received by his mother at her home, No. 7½ Cane avenue:

My Dear Mother—I suppose you are surprised and disappointed. I am sorry for what I did, but it was Mother's fault. I am going to make unknown, and don't know where I will go. I am leaving Boston by the very first train I get today.

I will try to keep in touch with you through my lawyer, so that you will know my whereabouts. But I simply had to do what I did and go now to make unknown or become insane.

I am enclosing you a key to the front door of the farm. The inside doors are all open. I am sending you also a credit for the United Fruit Company and they will pay for the apples. Take everything at the farm.

You will hear from me soon. I am a heartbroken and desperate man. Do not think, dear mother, that I am very bad. Little brought all this on. Your loving son, HENRY.

Hobbs' sentence, it has just become known, was taken from his former kidnaper on Friday night, South End, Sunday evening between 9 and 10 o'clock. Whether it was taken away by Hobbs himself or not, however, is still unknown.

PROVIDENCE GIRL TELLS CAUSE OF LOST LOVE SUIT

Miss Elizabeth L. Baxter, Providence girl, who has filed a writ against Thomas F. Burke, in advance of a $100,000 breach of promise suit.

PROVIDENCE, Nov. 15.—Miss Elizabeth L. Baxter, a cashier, whose attorney have served a writ on Thomas F. Burke, heir to a fortune said to be over a million, in advance of a $100,000 breach of promise suit, today made her first statement in connection with the case.

Miss Baxter, who is very attractive and prominent in the social set, declares that the break between herself and young Burke came after he objected to her mother's living with them after their marriage. Burke is the son of the late Tobias Burke, wealthy liquor dealer of this city.

Miss Baxter says:

"A room in the $15,000 house had been assigned for my mother to occupy and everything was going along splendidly until Mr. Burke objected to my mother's living with us after our marriage."

As I am the sole support of my mother and have been so for eight years since the death of my father, I could not leave my mother under such circumstances. Moreover, he had agreed that she was to live with us. I propose to carry this suit through in justice to myself. I have my reputation to uphold and if it must be court trial, then court trial it must be.

"He didn't keep his agreement with me and tried in many ways to shift the responsibility that he was willing to assume at the outset. It must not have been womanly for me to desert my mother and it was womanly for me to bring the question up at the last moment."

Mr. Burke and his mother and myself had selected the furniture for the new home and he was in readiness for our marriage. We were going to live in the new house."

Attorneys in the case are striving to offer a settlement before Thursday, the date the declaration will be filed unless a settlement is reached. Burke declares that he is not to blame and attributes the "break" to Miss Baxter's attitude toward money in her family.

The writ of summons was issued by attorney Joseph C. Cawley, Miss Baxter's counsel, on October 13 and attorneys of Burke were served with knowledge of service was made by attorney John J. Fitzgerald for Burke. The writ is returnable November 18, unless a settlement is effected.

ROB WOMAN OF JEWELS IN BACK BAY

Two burglars, who entered the apartment of Mrs. George E. Ward at No. 284 Homewood street, Back Bay, early today, escaped with a jewel case containing some valued at several hundred dollars.

Mrs. Ward was told when the men forced their way into the apartment, presumably by climbing a fire escape and prying open a window. She was awakened by them as they were ransacking the room. One of the intruders heard her move to the bed and flashed a hand light in her face. They threatened her with violence if she made any noise. She did not note whether they were armed.

RANSACKED DRESSER.
While one of the men stood by the bed his companion ransacked the dresser. One of the drawers he found the jewel box and both hurried from the apartment.

Mrs. Ward immediately notified the police. A telephone call was sent to Patrolman James Mahoney at police headquarters. He communicated with Lieutenant Daniel J. Walker of the Back Bay station. The automobile patrol was hastily dispatched to the scene with a squad of officers. They arrived at the house within five minutes of the departure of the burglars.

A thorough search of the neighborhood and the vicinity failed to reveal any trace of the burglars.

During the search of the district, the officers met a person who was on his way home. He stated that he had noticed the two men on Calverly street, but at that time he knew nothing of the burglary. He was able to furnish the searching party with a good description of the men.

SUSPECTS ESCAPE.
The patrol and officers hurried in the direction in which the men had been seen to go but they had succeeded in eluding their pursuers.

Mrs. Ward was the only person in the apartment at the time of the robbery. As a result of the affair, she is in a hysterical condition. Although she informed the police that the stolen jewels were valued at several hundred dollars, nevertheless at the present time she is unable to name any specific value.

TWO AMERICANS TORTURED BY INDIANS

By International News Service.
EL PASO, Tex., Nov. 15.—Joseph W. Tark, the American who was slain by Indians near San Blas, Mexico, was being tortured to death by several Mexicans before death put an end to his sufferings.

Details of Tark's death were received today in a letter from the father of the murdered man. Tark was on his way to Los Mochis when he and his companions were overtaken by Indians of the Huichil tribe.

They were made prisoners and stripped of their clothing. In the morning they were compelled to march to the Indian camp, five miles away. When they begged for water the Indians scolded them with the sight of their camp, but gave them none.

At the camp Tark and a companion were shot, despite Tark's protest that he was an American citizen.

New Measure to Curb Drunken Autoists Filed

A bill that deals strictly with drunken autoists, and with autoists who hit, then run away, was filed today with the Secretary of State by Representative Edward J. Sawyer of Ware.

Concerning autoists who hit and run away, the bill provides:

"A fine of $100 to $1,000, and imprisonment for three months for each offense."

"In civil cases, the fact that the autoist runs away to prove fault is evidence of willful and criminal neglect."

"In civil cases, the fact that the autoist runs away shall triple the damages that would otherwise be allowed."

"In case of the death of a victim of an auto which strikes and runs away, the occupants of the driving automobile shall be liable for imprisonment for from ten to twenty years."

Concerning drunken autoists, the bill provides that autoists of the first conviction, the second conviction shall suspend the autoist's license, and that for the second conviction within two years the autoist license shall be permanently revoked.

'GIVE' IS THE WATCHWORD OF THE CAMPAIGN OF 'HAPPINESS'

Pennies! Nickels! Dimes! Quarters! Half-dollars! Dollars! Two-dollar bills! Any checks for any sum from two dollars upwards! Thus the funds are coming in for the AMERICAN'S Christmas Basket Fund and the Campaign of Happiness.

Happiness which has as its object the distribution of Christmas dinners where they will do the most good, is booming. It was only two days ago that the contribution lists were opened. Yet in two days the total contributed has climbed close to the thousand dollar mark.

The Christmas Basket Editor is anxious for everybody to have a share of the happiness that goes with this campaign. It is a double-action sort of happiness—happiness for the giver, happiness for those who receive the Christmas Baskets.

And so—in order that they may share this great Happiness Campaign—the Editor wants every little boy and girl in New England to do his or her part by giving his or her penny, or nickel, or dime, or as much more as he or she finds possible.

So the Editor wants the pennies, just as he wants the larger sums. Each Christmas Dinner Basket will cost $2, so that every $2 given means another family will have some of the cheer of Christmas in their home.

Some have been able to give money for a dozen or two dozen or four dozen baskets at one time; but it doesn't matter whether you give a dozen baskets, or just enough to buy one drumstick of the chickens that go in the baskets.

GIVE! That is the main thing! Nickels, Dimes, Pennies, Dollars! Just so you give.

Every penny of all you give will go where it will do the most good. Many people hesitate to give funds to organized charities, because so large a proportion of these funds sometimes goes to the organization, and so little to the charity.

But there will be no "overhead charges" in this Campaign of Happiness. All administrative expenses connected with the distribution of the Christmas Baskets will be met by the BOSTON AMERICAN. Every dollar or every penny you give goes to buy food for those who need it.

Give, Big or Little, for the Xmas Basket Fund

Don't be afraid to give a dime, a nickel, or even a penny to the Christmas Dinner Basket Fund of the Boston AMERICAN.

There is room for everybody in the army enlisted in the Campaign of Christmas Happiness. Many great-hearted men and women are giving dollars—$100, $50 and so on. But not everyone can do this.

Don't stay out of this campaign because you cannot give dollars. Give what you can. Every coin helps. Your contribution, given according to your means, will make Christmas a joyful day for someone in need. GIVE A DOLLAR, GIVE A HALF DOLLAR, GIVE A QUARTER, GIVE A DIME, GIVE A NICKEL, GIVE A PENNY.

GIVE! GIVE! GIVE!

than this work of the Boston AMERICAN readers.

God speed you! May you get everything you need from Boston's charitable and generous people. Very truly yours,

JAMES A. GALLIVAN, Commissioner Patrick O'Hearn.

Dear Christmas Editor: I am glad to send you $15 for the Christmas Dinner Basket Fund. It is one of Boston's great charities. Every family has a duty to contribute to this fund.

Let me give according to my means, no matter how small the sum. Every coin added to this fund may make a happy and cheerful Christmas for some one who is poor.

Very truly yours, PATRICK O'HEARN.

These letters are only two of many. And many more such contributions are needed. Last year, 1909 Christmas Baskets were distributed. Over $12,000 was contributed by the good folks of Boston and New England for the Christmas Dinner Basket Fund.

It is a most interesting difference between a Merry Christmas and a Sad Christmas in some home. The year, the Christmas Basket Editor hopes that even more money will come in, so that even more baskets may be sent.

The news of the AMERICAN'S Campaign of Happiness has gone around the town; and plentiful little appeals have begun to come from those who hope that among all the Christmas Diners to be distributed, there will be one for them.

For instance, a mother writes: Dear Editor: I am just one woman, but I hope you will maybe have a basket for my little child. I am just one woman, but I hope you will maybe have a basket for my little child.

Dear Editor: I am just one woman, but I hope you will maybe have a basket for my little child. I am just one woman, but I hope you will maybe have a basket for my little child.

SPEEDY CAROLAN STAY AT AMHERST TWO MORE YEARS

AMHERST, Nov. 16.—Tom Riley, just in the variety squad and the student body elected, has been signed to continue as Amherst's football coach during the 1916 and 1917 seasons. The former Michigan player has made good here and is a favorite with faculty, players and undergraduates alike.

Early in the Fall Riley made it clear that this would be his last year in Amherst, but the school made against Williams last Saturday, the largest since 1910, and the earnest appeal of the Amherst men was too much for Riley and he has agreed to continue.

It's About Time Skinny Did Do Something Like That

Boston American Editorial Columns

The AMERICAN disapproves of a loan to prolong the war in Europe and is unwilling to accept any money for advertising such a loan. The AMERICAN does not, however, feel at liberty to deprive its readers of the statements of the proponents of the loan, whether in news text or in advertising. The AMERICAN therefore prints the advertisement of the loan, but contributes the money paid therefor to the Red Cross, in the hope of relieving some of the suffering and injury which a war loan will inevitably cause.

Two Facts--Both Are Interesting

England Accepts Men with "Bad Teeth" The German Emperor a Multiple Godfather

EMPEROR WILLIAM says that he will now be godfather not only of the eighth and ninth sons in an succession, without any daughters mixing in to spoil the picture, but that he also will be the godfather of any eighth or ninth son, even though daughters come in between.

For instance, when the German lady has fourteen or fifteen children, and there are eight or nine sons in the collection, the Emperor will be godfather of the eighth and the ninth--a very high honor.

This ought to please and excite the population. It is intended to encourage big families, make up for deaths in the war which are cutting the youth and the life blood out of all European countries.

What is needed in European countries, however, is not so much an emperor to be godfather to the eighth or ninth son as somebody to prevent the murdering of so many sons, and to make it unnecessary for ladies, German or otherwise, to have such large collections of children in order to supply the food for cannon.

England now accepts men with "bad teeth." When we talk of preparing for war in this country, we might begin by PREPARING the teeth of our school children.

In England, where they are inviting the men on the farms to enlist, they put at the bottom of the patriotic appeal, "Bad teeth no bar."

They have put this because hitherto they have been compelled to refuse men with bad teeth--such unfortunate individuals being unable to live on the army fare.

During the small South African War thirteen thousand men were sent back absolutely useless because their teeth were bad--and all the expense of taking them thousands of miles back and forth, training them, paying them, uniforming and arming them was wasted.

This country has suddenly realized that it might be worth while to spend a few hundreds of millions in "getting ready."

A good beginning would be in the mouths of children. If the big cities and the little country schoolhouses would spend the money to examine the teeth of the children and put them in good condition, that would be some PREPARATION.

Booker T. Washington

A Man Whose Life, Character and Abilities
Compelled Respect

BISHOP LAWRENCE'S sermon on Booker T. Washington makes a good AMERICAN editorial on the kind of man concerning whom the AMERICAN editors like to speak in notes of praise.

Bishop Lawrence said:

"Having known him well for years, I can say from personal knowledge that he was a great, charitable, strong, healthy and open-minded man, and was always first in things that had to do with the uplifting of his race. In all the stress of life, and the harsh things that were said of him and to him, no word of complaint or bitterness ever passed his lips. When he came to Boston, he walked with his carpet bag, not to one of the great hotels which, although they might have received him, would not have welcomed either colored men, but among his people, where he was always welcome. He would not go where those of his race could not go.

"Some of you know what it is to stand for an hour at the end of a dinner car, waiting for your breakfast. For the thirty years that Booker T. Washington traveled over this country, week after week, he has waited until every white person had been served before he entered. He then went in alone and took his meals with the waiters.

"I believe that history will make record that this boy, born in slavery, nameless and homeless in his youth, will rank as one of the great characters of the country."

In our modern life, where simplicity is so rare a virtue and false pride and affection so common a fault, Mr. Washington was an exceptional man--a man whose life, character and abilities compel respect, not only for himself but for his people.

Once-Overs

One stormy weather friend is better than an army of the fair weather sort. Few people, comparatively, are capable of being really true friends. This you, do not. "You resent it, and want to retaliate? You are a true friend to several!"

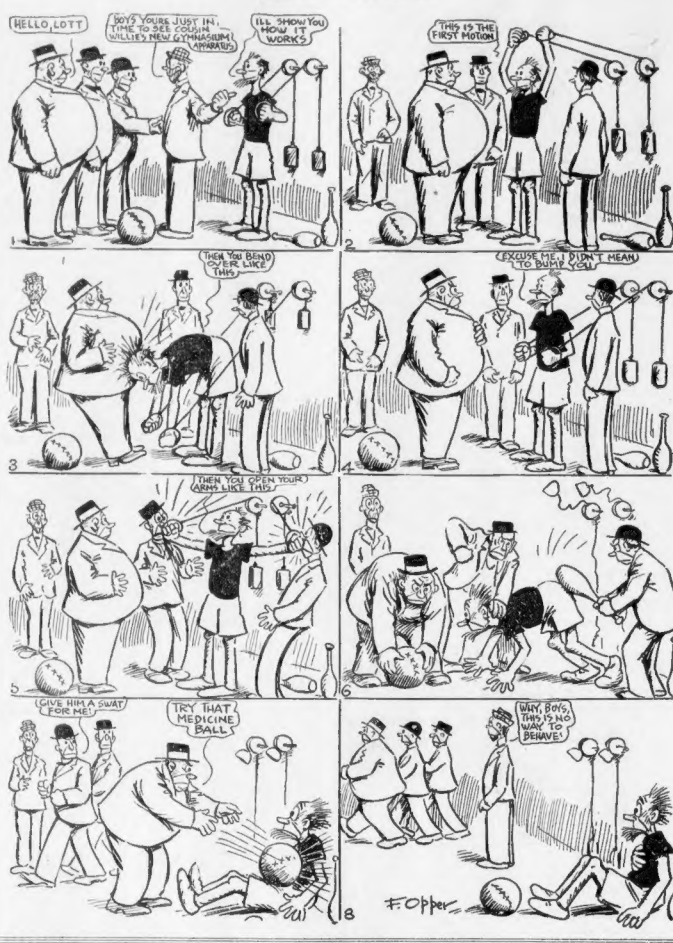

To give you a few tests. Would you be willing to subject yourself to smallpox to care for some friend if that friend were unable to get anyone to help out? Would you willingly deny yourself the luxuries of life that some unfortunate might have a few friends? Would you stand by any friend you have, if by doing so you alienated every other so-called friend you have?

There are scores of such tests that might prove you not so staunch as you claim to be. When you find a true friend, do not let anything break your friendship. It is too valuable. It means a good bit to be able to say that you have a true friend, so see that you yourself live up to the requirements of one.

OUR FIRST DUTY IS TO MAINTAIN PEACE; OUR NEXT DUTY IS TO PREPARE FOR WAR

At the French front the speed limit of automobiles is twenty-five miles an hour. That sort of thing would never do with the Russians.

Merit in It

In-Shoots
As a rule the second wife can make a man appreciate the first.
Charity generally loosens man's tongue before it unties his purse-strings.

The man with a fierce mustache often has a disposition as mild as a wet-bellied egg.
In the battle of life the ability to throw taft will often accomplish more than a strong personality.
When you become acquainted with the real optimist you will find that he does not own many blocks of

Ella Wheeler Wilcox's Article

Writer Offers Her Views on the Necessity of Treating Animals With Both Sympathy and Kindness and Rebukes the Inhumanity of Men to Beasts

By Ella Wheeler Wilcox

I HAVE looked straight into the hearts of men.
And I know what the first, and worst needs
To break like a child from its harsh nurse, needs.

And sport with nature in field and glen
Where the tiny acorn unfolds a tree
To let God's miracles banish doubt:
To see the seed in each washing sprout
And find a brother in bird and beast;
To look in the eyes of doe and dove,
And feel the sorrow of all dumb things,
And to know that we need not wait for wings
To carry a message of perfect love.

Copyright, 1915, Mac Coan
I believe there are hundreds of horses in this city today whose hearts are breaking for a little sympathy and kindness.
Meanwhile, man is devising cruel machines to tear their delicate mouths, arch their tired necks and chop their beautiful tails. And not a word is said against it by the clergyman.

There ought to be a Sunday set apart called the "Animal Sunday." Ministers ought to talk to their congregation about the duty we owe to animals.

Cats are the most sensitive, nervous, cleanly animals in the world. They are, too, intensely affectionate and devoted to people they love, as well as to places.
When a cat which has a good home is left to run in the streets and alleys, or is dropped in some cold or strange dooryard, its mental sufferings are beyond description.

Its affectionate nature is wounded, and it feels all the humiliation of a cold, starved existence which a delicate human being would feel if similarly situated.
And it has not the reason, the faith or philosophy which helps people in such cases.

Of course, there are cats who are born ingrates and tremors, just as there are men of this sort. But after careful observation of animals and people, it must be confessed more two-footed ingrates are found than are found among the quadrupeds.

I wish the Salvation Army people, who are so full of the real spirit of Christ, would introduce the thought of consideration toward animals into their work. It is a great pity that kindness in their conduct toward dumb beasts is rarer among Christians than the followers of Buddha.

There are many things we can teach the Orientals, but they are also many important things they can teach us, and one important thing they need to teach our orthodox people is that human beings do not monopolize all the "souls" created by God.

Everything which exists is possessed of the Divine spark, and when we learn to think of horses, dogs and cats as our brothers who are handicapped in the race of life the world will be better for it.

Inklings and Thinkings

REVELATIONS OF AN INTERNATIONAL SPY

To some persons the language of the Serbians is very difficult, but to me, B. V. D., the famous international spy, all languages are necessary in my business.

By suggesting vowels the Serbians' language becomes simple enough.
Take the word "bechich" for instance. Look difficult at first, perhaps, but it means of a pig blin! It is not hard to understand.

With the proper vowels inserted the word is merely "backache."
Simple, is it not that it not?

The plans of these international spies and agents are known to me soon.
A day in Serbia and I shall be "next," as they say in Boston. They cannot fool B. V. D.

Just as Mexico is struggling out of revolution and riot, Carranza announces that the quiet and orderly sport of bull fighting is to be replaced with baseball. It may be that umpires are considered less valuable than bulls.

Life's mysteries: Life's mysteries.
German would receive prison sentence for proposing marriage to a Russian prisoner of war. Atrocities must be suppressed.

We've had songs like "It's Apple Blossom Time in Normandy" and now
"It's Tulip Time in Holland." Why not have "It's Potato Blossom Time in Ireland's Isle" or "It's Onion Time Down in Bermuda?"

"Indianapolis," says F. H. C. in the St. Louis Globe Democrat, "is not too big to have a burgo festival. Burgo is the Hunsler word for Hungarian Goulash." Burgo, mulligan, Irish stew--the faster good, whatever you call it.
